Alex,

In retrospect, it's fortunate you had the foresight to ask Mike to lead the ACU team to Egypt and Israel in early July of last year. Mike's ties to the Israeli security community were helpful in securing meetings and he played an important leadership role in the high-level meetings we had. As Reuben noted, he's always been enthusiastic about the project and its objectives, including its role in stabilizing and strengthening US-Russia relations.

Alex - as I mentioned before, Flynn is getting closer to National Security Advisor. Expect an announcement soon. This is a big win for the ACU project. Spoke with him via backchannels earlier this week. He has always believed in the vision of ACU effort. Gave him a quick update on Areva joining the team + the role critical continued support of Mammoet and SL/RF. We need to let him get settled into the new position, but update him shortly after. More to follow.
